

Brian Lasswell

Board of Directors

Brian Lasswell is a professional and equestrian competitor based in Belgrade, Montana, with a diverse background spanning space planning and Western performance horse sports.

Professionally, Brian works with the firm Trident Montana, bringing an educational foundation from Oregon State University, which he attended from 2000 to 2005. His professional expertise lies in client focused construction, bringing projects to life through creative estimating and diligent project management. Throughout his career, he has maintained strong geographic and professional connections across the Pacific Northwest and Mountain West, including Portland, Oregon; Vancouver, Washington; and the Bozeman, Montana area.

Outside of his office design work, Brian is an accomplished equestrian deeply involved in the regional cutting circuits. Training out of the Belgrade/Bozeman area with Macdonald Performance Horses, he actively competes in the cutting horse discipline.
